

NEW SQUARE

LOCATION: Baganzola (PR)
 CLIENT: City of Parma (PR)
 ARCHITECTONICAL DESIGNERS: Francesco Fulvi, Simona Bernardoni
 COLLABORATORS: Roberto Bruni, Diletta Arcangeletti, Valentina Buratti, Elise Nogrette, Michele Sbarsi, Alessandro Passerini, Alberto Saracino.
 TOTAL AREA: 1.200 sqm
 DATES AND PLANNING: 2010 - Outline Proposals
 LABOUR COSTS: Euro 500.000

The basic idea is to create a new public safe space for all categories of users. The project is a closed, cozy and safe place. The slogan used is "a square for all...the senses"; indeed the project is addressed to all categories of users: children, young couples, people with different disabilities, the senior citizen stimulating the "senses" of all. The design of the roof is inspired by the design of the industrial overhead crane, metaphorically evoking the manufacturing origin of the Village of Baganzola. It preserves the historical memory of the Salvarani factory.

